

Here are three ways in which you can navigate a Logos resource.

Move Forward and Back

Use the "Forward" arrow to go to the next resource. Use the "Back" arrow to go to the previous resource.

As you navigate a resource, two arrows are enabled. For example, after moving around in the resource "Dios Habla Hoy", two arrows change from a gray color to a black color. Note the arrows,  , on the right side in the following view:

The screenshot shows the Logos software interface. At the top, there's a menu bar with icons for Home, Books, and Search, followed by tabs for Documents, Guides, Tools, and Command. Below the menu is a toolbar with a document icon, a search icon, and a plus sign. A reference box contains the text "Matthew 27:4". To the right of the reference box are several icons: a circular icon with a gear, a pause icon, and a refresh icon. On the far right, there are navigation arrows (left and right) and an information icon. The main content area displays a biblical passage in Spanish. The first few lines of the passage are: "27 Cuando amaneció, todos los jefes de los sacerdotes y los ancianos de los judíos se pusieron de acuerdo[†] en un plan para matar a Jesús. [‡]Lo llevaron atado y se lo entregaron a Pilato, el gobernador romano.[‡]" Below this, a section titled "La muerte de Judas" begins with the text: "3 Judas, el que había traicionado a Jesús, al ver que lo habían condenado, tuvo remordimientos y devolvió las treinta monedas de plata a los jefes de los sacerdotes y a los ancianos,[‡] diciéndoles:"

When you click on the left arrow, you will go back to the previous view. When you click on the right arrow, you will return to the forward view.

Move to a Different Bible Reference

Note the box containing "Matthew 27:4". This is the Reference Box. To navigate to a different bible reference, enter the reference into the box and hit the enter key. For example, enter "Luke 19:40" in the box and hit the enter key. This will move the resource to the location of Luke 19:40, as seen here.

The screenshot shows the Logos Bible Software interface. At the top, there are icons for Home, Books, and Search, followed by menu options: Documents, Guides, Tools, and Command. Below the menu is a toolbar with a small thumbnail of the current resource, the title "Dios Habla Hoy", a search bar containing "Luke 19:40", and various navigation and search tools. The main content area displays a biblical passage from Luke 19:40-43. The passage is in Spanish and discusses Jesus' entry into Jerusalem and his prediction of future suffering.

4º Pero Jesús les contestó:
—Les digo que si estos se callan, las piedras gritarán.
4¹ Cuando llegó cerca de Jerusalén, al ver la ciudad,[‡] Jesús lloró por ella,[‡]
4² diciendo: “¡Si en este día tú también entendieras lo que puede darte paz! Pero ahora eso te está escondido y no puedes verlo. 4³ Pues van a venir para ti días malos,

Find Your Location in a Resource

In the picture above, notice the locator bar just below the Reference Box. If you do not see this bar when you have Logos Bible Software open, press CTRL+SHIFT+L. In other words, press the control key, the shift key and the letter “L” at the same time. (If you are using a Mac, press the command key, the shift key, and the letter “L” at the same time.) Each time you press this combination of keys, the locator bar toggles on and off.

Click on the button on the left side of the locator bar. This opens the table of contents, as seen below.

The screenshot shows the Logos Bible Software interface with the table of contents open. On the left, a sidebar lists various chapters and sections of the resource. The main content area displays the same biblical passage from Luke 19:40-43 as in the previous screenshot. The table of contents includes entries like "19.28 V. EN JER...", "19.28 1. Activi...", "19.28 Jesús e...", "19.45 Jesús p...", "20.1 La autori...", "20.9 La paráb...", "20.20 La preg...", and "20.27 La preg...".

4º Pero Jesús les contestó:
—Les digo que si estos se callan, las piedras gritarán.
4¹ Cuando llegó cerca de Jerusalén, al ver la ciudad,[‡] Jesús lloró por ella,[‡]
4² diciendo: “¡Si en este día tú también entendieras lo que puede darte paz! Pero ahora eso te está

With the table of contents open, you may select any place in the table, and the portion of the resource displayed in the main area will move to the location that you selected. For example, if you select the table of contents entry that starts with “20:20 La preg...”, the main content pane will move to the given location, shown below:

The screenshot shows the 'Dios Habla Hoy' application window. At the top, there are icons for Home, Books, and Search, followed by menu items: Documents, Guides, Tools, and Command. Below the menu is a toolbar with a search bar containing 'Luke 20:19'. To the right of the search bar are buttons for zooming in and out, and a help icon. On the left, a sidebar displays a 'Table of Contents' with several entries, including '19.28 V. EN JER...', '19.28 1. Activi...', '19.28 Jesús e...', '19.45 Jesús p...', '20.1 La autori...', '20.9 La paráb...', '20.20 La preg...', and '20.27 La preg...'. The main content area shows the title 'La pregunta sobre los impuestos' and its source '(Mt 22.15-22; Mc 12.13-17)'. The text of the passage begins with '20 Mandaron a unos espías que, aparentando ser hombres honrados, hicieran decir a Jesús algo que les diera pretexto para ponerlo bajo el poder y la jurisdicción del gobernador romano. 21 Estos le preguntaron:'.

To the right of the table of contents, you now see the button. When you click on this button, the table of contents closes.

Notice that some of the text is blue, rather than black, and is underlined. One example is "Mt 22.15-22". Text in this format is a clickable link. When you move the cursor over the blue underlined text, it will change from an arrow to a hand with a pointing finger. At this point, click the mouse button and the book will move to the new location.

Move to a Different Article

At the right side of the locator bar you see . With this, you can navigate by article. The up arrow moves the resource to the previous article. The down arrow moves the resource to the next article.

The screenshot shows the 'Article' navigation bar with four options: Article (selected), Book, Chapter, and Verse. To the right of the bar, text reads: 'If the resource is a bible or commentary, you can also navigate in ways other than by article. When you click on the triangle to the right of "Article", you will see other options. You can navigate by Book (of the Bible), Chapter, or Verse. Choose one of the options. Then use the up and down arrows to move to a new location.'

If the resource is a bible or commentary, you will notice the special character, , in certain places. When you move the cursor over this character, a small box will open up. This box contains another bible passage that is related to the passage you are currently looking at. Click on the link inside this box to move to the other passage.

Cross References

If the resource is a bible or commentary, you will notice the special character, , in certain places. When you move the cursor over this character, a small box will open up. This box contains another bible passage that is related to the passage you are currently looking at. Click on the link inside this box to move to the other passage.

Footnotes

Sometimes extra information is given at particular places in a resource in the form of a footnote. For example, in the resource, "My Tongue Is the Pen How Audiocassettes Can Serve the Nonreading World", in article "1.3.1 The need for motivation", there is a footnote at the end of a paragraph, as shown below:

The screenshot shows a digital document interface. On the left is a sidebar with a tree view of the document structure. The main content area displays a section header and a paragraph of text. A small number '2' is visible at the end of the paragraph, indicating a footnote.

My Tongue Is the Pen How Audiocassettes Can Serve the Nonreading World

Section ... > 1. ... > 1.3. ... > 1.3.1. ... Article

Among the Rendille in Kenya, mini-courses on cassette taught illiterate elders how to write numbers and how to read simple business contracts. They need these practical skills to avoid being exploited by local merchants. A few of these functionally literate elders wanted to develop more reading and writing skills.²

Some people actually teach themselves to read by listening to a cassette and by following along on the printed page. Several

The small number "2" following "skills" is a footnote. Move the cursor over the number "2", and you will see this note: "Noela Elvery delivered a paper on this audio project at the Africa Area Literacy Consultants Training Seminar, Yaoundé, Cameroon, January 1988. Excerpts of her paper appear in Notes on Literacy 61(1990):45-48."